The COVID-19 Pandemic has been a great awakening for us all. We are all hopeful that the worst is behind us, and that is why we are moving forward with our Annual Convention.

With this said, each individual will need to make the best decision about participation for his or her family. While we will endeavor to follow CDC, State and other medical guidance, none of the foregoing can bear responsibility for any illness or death resulting from participating in this year's Convention.

Please acknowledge by signing below, that you understand that attendance is at your sole discretion and therefore at your sole risk. And, further, that you do release and hold harmless The Grand, AILA and Elegant Events for any COVID related illness that your participation may cause you or your family to suffer.
